

Commuter Update

Antelope Valley Transit Authority

MARCH 29, 2005

Service begins April 25, 2005 at the Palmdale Transportation Center

AVTA will begin using the Palmdale Transportation Center for commuter services on April 25, 2005. The center will provide numerous customer conveniences that are not available at the Pelona Vista Park and Ride - among those conveniences are: 24-hour security, shelter structures, restrooms, vending machines, and Saturday kiosk hours from 1:00pm to 5:00pm (in addition to current kiosk hours).

You may enter the facility from three locations: north from Technology Drive, west from 3rd Street East, and south from 6th Street East off Palmdale Blvd. You will find plenty of convenient and well lit parking. (Local transit passengers will begin using the facility on April 16, 2005)

Additional run added to Route 787

Due to increased ridership, AVTA has added another run to Route 787. We expect this additional bus will help ensure that you continue to get to work on time.

Effective immediately, a second bus will depart the same time as the first run at 4:20 AM. In the afternoon the added bus will begin its return trip to the Antelope Valley at 4:00 PM. Time stops are as follows. Please refer to the website or printed schedule for complete list of runs.

On Thursday morning, March 31, Mr. Al Rangel, Rideshare Coordinator for the MTA, will step onto your bus at Pelona Vista, to take a head count of passengers who wish to see the additional morning bus depart at 4:10AM instead of following the 4:20AM bus.

We also encourage 787 passengers to use the comment form at the bottom of this update, to let us know your thoughts on the AM departure time.

Many of our commuters like to nap on their way to and from work.

Although we appreciate the use of headphones, please remember that passengers sitting near you can still hear them if the volume is turned too high.
